Solarfox® Nano

7.5" E-Ink Display

DISCOVER NOW

Small Display. Big Impact.

Solarfox® Nano helps solar installers stay present after the job is done - with live energy data, custom company branding and a display homeowners actually notice.

Stay Present. Spark Referrals.

Referrals need a trigger.

Many homeowners are proud of their solar system - but without a visible reminder, it rarely becomes part of everyday conversations.

Solarfox® Nano creates that trigger. It brings live solar data into the home, making the system easy to understand, easy to show and easy to talk about.

With your company logo on the display, you stay present long after the job is done. When visitors ask about the system, your company is already part of the conversation.

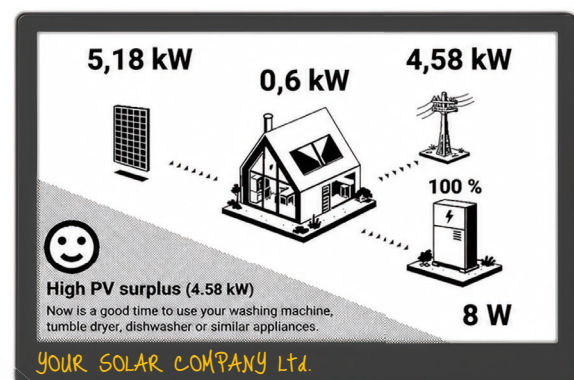

- ✓ 7.5" E-Ink Display with up to 90 days of battery life
- ✓ Custom company logo on the frame or within the content
- ✓ Display of key energy data: Current system output, daily, monthly, yearly and lifetime energy yield, weather forecast, CO₂ savings and optionally energy consumption, self sufficiency rate and energy flow.
- ✓ More than 90 integrations with leading inverters, battery storage systems and energy management platforms
- ✓ All it needs is Wi-Fi.

SOLAR DISPLAY SYSTEMS

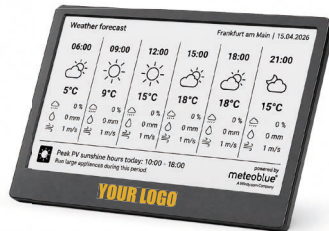

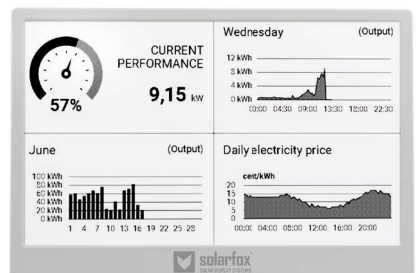

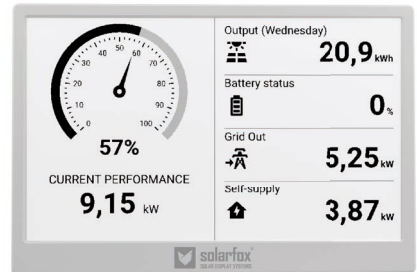

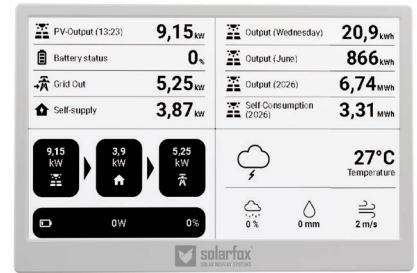

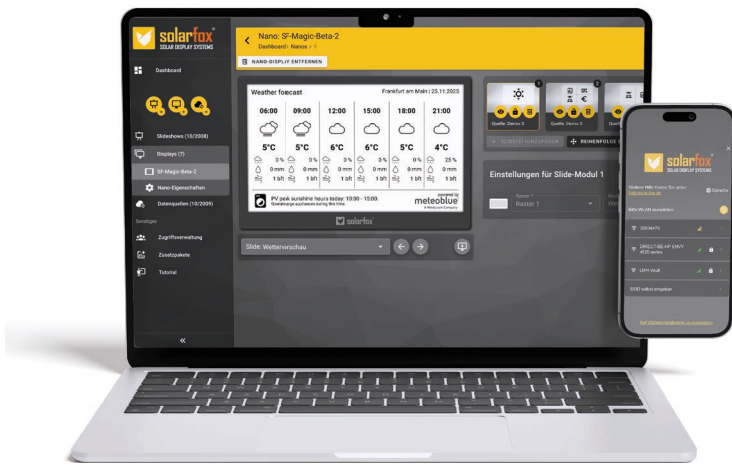

Great work deserves to stay visible.

Turn every completed job into a conversation starter.

Fully Customizable When Needed.

The content of the Solarfox® Nano can be adjusted at any time via the Solarfox® online management platform to match your branding, customer needs and preferred display configuration.

The next referral starts with staying visible.

Solarfox® Nano keeps your company present long after the job is done right where customers talk about their solar system.

Solarfox® Nano - the small display that keeps your company in sight.
